TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- I am aware that in order to ensure eligibility as a winner of the BCIM campaign, a minimum number of required questionnaire responses is necessary, as outlined in the minimum respondents threshold table.
- I am aware that the Official Verifying Partner will contact a random sample of my employees to verify validity of the questionnaire responses. If any discrepancy is found, this shall result in a follow up investigation and possible disqualification from the BCIM & Myanmar Employer Awards campaigns.
- The BCIM committee ensures that individual company scores and questionnaire answers will be kept private and not published in any way. Aggregate and anonymous scores may be used for benchmarking or reporting analysis.
- I am aware that in case the avg. survey score equals or exceeds the minimum scoring threshold, I have the option to purchase the Winner Branding & Promotional Kit.
- A minimum number of 10 full time, white collar employees is required to enter the BCIM campaign.
- Only after purchasing the Branding & Promotional Kit, a company shall have the right to publicly advertise their status as a winner of a specific years' BCIM campaign. If said kit is not purchased, the company has no right to publicly mention, advertise or in any way display any printed or digital material related to having participated in the BCIM campaign, successfully achieved the BCIM score and/or winner status.
